Symetra Names Daniel Guilbert as President, Individual Life and Retirement Divisions

BELLEVUE, Wash. — (April 17, 2019) — Symetra Life Insurance Company today named Daniel R. Guilbert as president of its Individual Life and Retirement Divisions.

“Leading Symetra is very much a team effort. Dan’s new title recognizes the significant role he plays in developing Symetra’s long-term strategic plans and his ongoing contributions to the successful execution of our strategy,” said Margaret Meister, president and chief executive officer of Symetra Financial Corporation.

Mr. Guilbert has helped build Symetra into a fixed indexed annuity leader since joining the company in 2010, simultaneously guiding an expansion and diversification of the company’s retirement product portfolio to reach new markets and new customers. Under his leadership, the Retirement Division achieved its first billion dollar sales quarter and Symetra products are now available in every major bank in the United States.

Since taking on overall responsibility for the Individual Life Division (ILD) in 2017, Mr. Guilbert spearheaded the unit’s successful launch of its first indexed universal life product. He has worked closely with the ILD leadership team to prioritize systems and processes modernizations to facilitate the division’s continued expansion in the individual life space.
